

Alaska 200 Club

34th Report

2014

The Alaska 200 Club emblem portrays a Steller's Jay, Cyanocitta stelleri stelleri [Gmelin, 1778 {Vancouver Island, British Columbia}], new to ornithology in July 1741 when discovered at Kayak Island (Southcoastal Alaska) by George Wilhelm Steller. This find convinced Steller that the expedition had indeed reached the New World, and in a manner, establishing the Steller's Jay as the first bird to the Alaska list. In the background is the vessel Saint Peter which carried Bering, Steller, and contingent to Alaska.

THIRTY- FOURTH REPORT OF THE ALASKA 200 CLUB

The Alaska 200 Club, formed in 1979, is a membership of people that have recorded 200 or more species of birds, wild, alive and unrestrained in Alaska (Charter members = Roster numbers 1-12). This report summarizes 200 Club data through the end of 2014 and includes all 2014 updates that were sent to the Club Administrator by January 10, 2014.

The club roster stood at 292 members at the end of 2013. Four new members joined the club in 2014 and one was added posthumously: Larry Read (293), Nicklaus Hajdukovich (294), Jennifer Cedarleaf (295) and Keith Confer (296). Timothy Schantz (297) was added to the club this year after his 2001 passing by the Club Administrator. David Sonneborn remains at the top of the list; still the only birder to have reported seeing more than 400 species in Alaska. Nick Hajdukovich reported see in 300 or more species in Alaska in 2014. The late Tim Schantz was added to the 300 plus tier. Fifty-three members of the club have now reached that level.

Table 1 summarizes the membership ranking at the end of 2014, based on species total, and includes the year of each member's most recent update. Seventy seven members provided updates for this report.

The Alaska 200 club follows the CHECKLIST OF ALASKA BIRDS, including the "Unsubstantiated list" (but excluding species introduced or of questionable origin). This list is compiled by the Alaska Checklist Committee and is maintained by the University of Alaska. Changes that will be likely to the 21th edition of the Checklist in 2015 (and therefore were counted in member's totals for this report) include four new species added to the main list (Brown Booby, Long-billed Curlew, Kamchatka Leaf Warbler, Wood Thrush). The Long-billed Curlew was moved to the main list from the "Unsubstantiated List". With these changes the Checklist will stand at 505 species, plus 24 on the unsubstantiated list. The checklist can be found at the University of Alaska Museum of the North's Ornithology department web page.

All communications regarding the Alaska 200 Club should be sent to Ed Clark either by e-mail (akbirder@eagle.ptialaska.net) or to 1929 Kittiwake Drive, Fairbanks, Alaska 99709. This list is only updated once per year. Please send updates for the next report so that they arrive no later than January 10, 2016.

2014 CHANGES TO THE CHECKLIST OF ALASKA BIRDS

ADDITIONS TO THE CHECKLIST

Brown Booby Sula leucogaster. Gulf of Alaska. Records based on single birds on 28 and 29 October 2014. Status: Accidental

Long-billed Curlew Numenius americanus. 6 May 2014. Substantiated by photograph at Boy Scout Beach, Eagle River, Juneau. Status: Casual

Kamchatka Leaf Warbler Phylloscopus examinandus. Based on taxonomic split from Arctic Warbler Phylloscopus borealis by the American Ornithological Union 2014. Status: Casual

Wood Thrush Hylocichla mustelina. 3 October 2014 substantiated by photograph by D. Gochfeld, St. Paul Island Pribilof Islands. Status: Accidental

CHANGES TO THE UNSUBSTANTIATED LIST

Long-billed Curlew Numenius americanus has been moved to the substantiated section of the Checklist of Alaska Birds.

PENDING CHANGES TO THE LIST

At this time it is unknown if the Alaska Checklist Committee has any species in review status.

STATUS CHANGES

White-winged Dove is moved from Accidental to Casual. Common Chiffchaff is moved from Accidental to Casual. Veery is moved from Accidental to Casual. Eurasian Siskin is moved from Accidental to Casual.

OTHER CHANGES

American Ornithological Union split of Slavin's Albatross Thalassarche salvini from Shy Albatross T. cauta; the English and scientific names of Brown Hawk Owl Ninox scutulata become Northern Boobook N. japonica; the hyphen is dropped from the name "Leaf Warbler" thus giving Pallas's Leaf Warbler and the newly recognized Kamchatka Leaf Warbler, the name Locustellidae replaces Megaluridea for the family of grassbirds (in Alaska Locustella ochotensis and L. lanceolata), the liner position on the checklist of Common Redstart is changed from last in Muscipidae to a position between the genera Ficedula and Oenanthe.
