

TWENTY-FOURTH REPORT OF THE ALASKA 200 CLUB Annual Report for 2002

The Alaska 200 Club, formed in 1979, is a membership of people that have recorded 200 or more species of birds, wild, alive and unrestrained in Alaska [Charter members = Roster #'s 1-12]. In 2001, the Club roster increased by one bringing the total membership to 232; welcome Marlin Jones (#232; Idaho). Also of special note, Jon Dunn (#029; California) ended 2002 with over 300 species -22 members have now reached that plateau; and, David Sonneborn (#030; Alaska) finally supplanted the late Pete Isleib at the top of the list.

Table 1 summarizes the membership status at the end of 2002, ranked by total species. A record 53 members (22.9% of the total roster – excluding new members) submitted updates to their lists in 2002. The total membership presently resides in 37 States, the District of Columbia, three Provinces and one Territory of Canada, and Namibia, Africa; 97 members (41.8% of total) are current or former Alaska residents.

The Club follows the CHECKLIST OF ALASKA BIRDS, including the 'Unsubstantiated' listing (but excluding species introduced or of questioned origin), maintained by the University of Alaska Museum. Table 2 summarizes the changes made during 2002, in which the Checklist total increased to 468 species, plus 30 on the Unsubstantiated list. At year-end, the median Club list increased to 235 species, with the average increasing to 245.3 (stdev = 37.9). Club members have now recorded 440 Checklist species (94.0%), plus 19 on the Unsubstantiated list; 92.2% of the combined total. Corrections to your existing data in Table 1, or updates for new species added to personal lists in 2003, including due to AOU supplements, should be submitted by 15 January 2004 for inclusion in the next annual report.
