

Alaska 200 Club

12th Report

1990

The Alaska 200 Club emblem portrays a Steller's Jay, Cyanocitta stelleri stelleri [Gmelin, 1778 {Vancouver Island, British Columbia}], new to ornithology in July 1741 when discovered at Kayak Island (Southcoastal Alaska) by George Wilhelm Steller. This find convinced Steller that the expedition had indeed reached the New World, and in a manner, establishing the Steller's Jay as the first bird to the Alaska list. In the background is the vessel Saint Peter which carried Bering, Steller, and contingent to Alaska.

TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ALASKA 200 CLUB

Presented herein is the twelfth annual report of the Alaska 200 Club for 1990. The Alaska 200 Club, formed in October 1979 (roster #'s 1-12), added 9 new members in 1990 bringing the full membership to 137. Pete Isleib (#6) of Juneau, Alaska continued to maintain the highest state list with 374 total species. The 300 Chapter welcomed Richard Gordon (#25) of Juneau, Alaska who ended the year with 304 species. Richard MacIntosh (#10) became the first member to compile a localized list of 200, ending the year with a Kodiak Island total of 202. The cumulative 200 Club state list for all the members stands at 403 species from the substantiated list, plus 25 from the unsubstantiated list. The membership includes 50 Alaska residents (plus 13 former) with the total roster representing 32 U.S. States, and two provinces and one territory of Canada.

Tabulated below is the current club ranking based on individual lists. In order, the table includes the member's name, roster number, U.S. state or Canadian province of residence, Alaska species total as of 31 December 1990, and enrollment year followed parenthetically by the year when the most recent addition was posted. Asterisks behind names identify former Alaska residents. Please check your information for correctness.

The Alaska 200 Club emblem portrays a Steller's Jay, new to ornithology in July 1741 when discovered at Kayak Island (South coastal Alaska) by Georg Wilhelm Steller. The discovery convinced Steller, that by the presence of this bird, he was indeed in the New World. Steller's Jay thus became the first bird on the Alaska list. In the background of the emblem is the vessel Saint Peter, on which Bering, Steller and contingent reached Alaska.

To join the Alaska 200 Club, provide a list of the species identified in the state to: Robert L. Scher, Alaska 200 Club, [address redacted]. Include a check, to Robert Scher, for 11$. For any species on the Alaska checklist followed with a mark (i.e. accidental, casual, or rare), please include details that can be evaluated. Adhering to the current checklist, Rock Dove [introduced] species, is not at this time countable for the 200 Club. Upon acceptance of your list, a 200 Club patch and roster number will be sent. Thereafter, please send me a list annually of the new species added to your state list. For replacement or extra patches, please send a check for $8 each to the above address.
